and operated a fine art gallery in Pennsylvania for 27 years where she taught oil, watercolor, and acrylic classes. In 1998 she founded the American Impressionist Society Inc for her mentor William Schultz. With the help of Margie Bradley and others, it has grown to over 1500 national members. It has benefited the careers of many artists by having the annual national juried exhibitions in the finest galleries in the country – www.americanimpressionistsociety.org. She was recently honored in October 2015 at the Trailside Gallery in Scottsdale, Arizona, for
